

TROUBLE

Threatened Among Miners in and Around Minersville.

Sheriff Titus Requested to Come to the Scene and Settle Matters.

The Non-Unionists Threatened a Number of them, and they were told to leave their own lives to have Threatened to Boycott them.

POMEROY, O., April 24.—A messenger in a buggy dashed into town from Minersville at 1 a. m., with the request that Sheriff Titus come to the scene of the mining troubles at once with sufficient help to suppress the riotous strikes. He stated that the operators were in fear of their lives and the village was about to be sacked and burned. The sheriff gathered up a dozen citizens and they went to the Grand Diller hotel, where he could reach them by telephone, and he went to the scene of trouble single-handed to reconnoiter.

Spies evidently notified the strikers of his approach, as they disappeared from the streets before his arrival. He remained on the ground until a late hour, but nothing of a serious character happened.

Monday night's outbreak was caused by the report that non-union miners had increased in numbers, and that eighteen men would go into the mines Tuesday morning. The strikers are determined that the non-union men must go. They had a secret meeting at the miners' hall Monday night and resolved to harass them until forced to retreat.

It is expected that Company I, Seventeenth regiment, O. N. G., stationed at Middleport, five miles below, will be called on if the trouble is not otherwise quelled at once.

Ten non-union men notified the operators at the Williams mine Tuesday morning that they would work there more and the strikers have raised pickets to send them away. The wives of William Manley and Nelson Ashire, leaders of the non-union men, have notified their husbands to quit work or they would leave them. These two have agreed to go with their wives, taking eight others with them. Only eight workmen remain. The strikers now say there was no necessity of calling out the company. They were there last night, as no violence was contemplated.

following:

"The activity of free coinage advocates and particularly the action of the Illinois convention has precipitated the liveliest political discussion in this part of the country since the war, when no election was held. Newspapers, great and small, weekly and daily, are teeming with editorials and communications on the silver question, and it is the general theme for conversation and controversy.

"I know of no person or party having taken to free coinage, but daily learn of some who have abandoned it.
A strong free coinage sentiment prevails in Indiana, and the friends of sound money here are fighting a hard, nevertheless, they welcome the discussion, and feel that ultimately the state will stand for honest money and national honor."
